

Jim Edmonds

Faith and Money Network has been a part of my life for many years, by osmosis. I was privileged to have FMN (previously Ministry of Money) Board meetings in our home for many years. Even though I did not attend these meetings directly, I learned a great deal about FMN and its ministry helping to guide people in their wealth management decisions as a means to benefit the needs of others. Through this ad hoc affiliation, I have taken several FMN-affiliated trips to the coal fields of Virginia where we could see first hand the mountaintop removal devastation inflicted on communities by the rich coal companies that crippled the local economies, created health hazards for the local inhabitants, and destroyed the ecology of vast areas of the coal-rich regions of Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky.

I am honored to join the FMN Board of Directors. Now that I am consulting within the framework of my retirement, I have the time to devote to the work of the FMN Board. I look forward to directing my energies to better understand the priorities for my own money/benefit/management objectives, as well as supporting the objectives of the Faith and Money Network.